GOSPEL Matt. 7:15-21 At that time, Jesus said to His disciples: "Beware of false prophets, who come to you in the clothing of sheep, but inwardly they are ravening wolves. By their fruits you shall know them. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles? Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit, and the evil tree bringeth forth evil fruit. A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can an evil tree bring forth good fruit. Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit, shall be cut down, and shall be cast into the fire. Wherefore by their fruits you shall know them. Not everyone that saith to me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven: but he that doth the will of My Father who is in heaven, he shall enter into the kingdom of heaven."

St. Christopher is one of the most popular saints in the East and in the West. He was a man of many names, Offerus being one of them. Born in the third century in Asia Minor, son of a king, he would grow to be a restless young man of considerable size. The early years of his life were spent in search of riches, of purpose, of a cause worthy of his allegiance.

As the story goes, a young Offerus, looking for the strongest and boldest ruler to follow, briefly courted Satan. When his new master cowered in fear at a holy cross on the side of a road, Offerus abandoned Satan, choosing light over darkness. During this period of transition, a holy hermit awakened the restless wanderer to Christianity, schooling and baptizing him. From then on, Offerus pledged his life to Christ and vowed to serve God's people along the banks of an untamed river. He built a hut and set up camp with a new purpose—to be a boatman to the world.

His popularity was solidified when a small child once approached him, wanting safe passage across the water. He hoisted the boy on his shoulders and, with his trusty staff, began the journey. As the river deepened, the child began to grow heavier. Waters quickly rising, the precious cargo continued to weigh the giant down. According to historians, as he reached the banks of the river, Offerus said, "Child, thou hast put me in great peril; thou weighest almost as if I had all the world upon me: I might bear no greater burden."

"Christopher," the little boy responded, "thou hast not only borne all the world upon thee, but thou hast borne Him that created and made all the world, upon thy shoulders."

The child instructed Christopher (meaning "Christbearer") to cross the river again and plant his staff in the ground, telling the ferryman that life would spring forth. To Christopher's astonishment, by morning his staff had taken root—bright flowers and fruit grew from it.

The rest of Christopher's life is even sketchier in detail. One legend states that many in the immediate area converted to Christianity based on his encounter, which drew unwanted attention. In Lycia—present-day Turkey—under Emperor Decius, he was imprisoned, shot with arrows, burned and then beheaded around 251 A.D.

The existence of a martyr St. Christopher cannot be denied however as was sufficiently shown by the Jesuit Nicholas Serarius, in his treatise on litanies, "Litaneutici" (Cologne, 1609), and by Molanus in his history of sacred pictures, "De picturis et imaginibus sacris" (Louvain, 1570).

In 1386 a brotherhood was founded under the patronage of St. Christopher in Tyrol and Vorarlberg, to guide travelers over the Arlberg. In 1517, a St. Christopher temperance society existed in Carinthia, Styria, in Saxony, and at Munich. Great veneration was shown to the saint in Venice, along the shores of the Danube, the Rhine, and other rivers where floods or ice-jams caused frequent damage.

His statues were placed at the entrances of churches and dwellings, and frequently at bridges; these statues and his pictures often bore the inscription: "Whoever shall behold the image of St. Christopher shall not faint or fall on that day." The saint, who is one of the fourteen holy helpers, has been chosen as patron by Baden, by Brunswick, and by Mecklenburg, and several other cities, as well as by bookbinders, gardeners, and mariners. He is invoked against lightning, epilepsy, pestilence and, storms. His feast is kept on 25 July and his emblems are the tree, the Christ Child, and a staff.

St. Christopher's Island (commonly called St. Kitts), lies 46 miles west of Antigua in the Lesser Antilles.

CHOIR. The choir is actively recruiting members with an interest in supporting the organ and singing for Low and High Masses. Many voices in concert make for a lovely sound before God. Please see Nicholas DeFillips, Choir Director, for more information.

CATECHISM CLASSES will resume in September. We have taught First Communion classes, Confirmation Classes, and Apologetics classes for many years. A sincere Thank You to those teachers who have brought the faith to our children over the years. It is the responsibility of every parent to educate their children in the Faith, and it is invaluable to have them attend classes with children their age who are going through the same challenges as them and have their Traditional Faith reinforced by another parent. We need volunteers to teach or assist with these classes. Please see James DeFillips for more information.

SCHOOL. As many of you are aware, Holy Family is establishing a school. We need leads for a full time, paid, Teacher/ Administrator to begin the K-2 program in the Fall of 2021. Please reach out to any Board member with information that may assist in our search.

Gospel Commentary - Wolves In Sheep's Clothing

Jesus and the Apostles warned us that there would come false prophets and apostles into the Catholic Church.

This has been the case from the very beginning of the Church.

Jesus warns us: "Beware of false prophets, who come to you in the clothing of sheep, but inwardly they are ravening wolves.

By their fruits you shall know them.

Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles? Even so every good tree brings forth good fruit, and the evil tree brings forth evil fruit. A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit; neither can an evil tree bring forth good fruit. Every tree that brings not forth good fruit, shall be cut down, and shall be cast into the fire. Wherefore by their fruits you shall know them." Matt. 7:15.

St. Paul teaches St. Timothy what to do in times when sound doctrine will not be endured: "I charge thee, before God and Jesus Christ, who shall judge the living and the dead, by his coming, and his kingdom: Preach the word: be instant in season, out of season: reprove, entreat, rebuke in all patience and doctrine. For there shall be a time, when they will not endure sound doctrine; but, according to their own desires, they will heap to themselves teachers, having itching ears: And will indeed turn away their hearing from the truth, but will be turned unto fables." 2 Tim. 4:1-4.

In these terrible times with the Vatican watering down Catholic teaching, we faithful traditional Catholics need to: "Preach the word: be instant in season, out of season: reprove, entreat, rebuke in all patience and doctrine". It will not be easy, but we'll do it nonetheless.

When all is said and done, there have always been wolves in sheep's clothing and false prophets since the beginning of the Church.

If we stay faithful, God will take care of His Church as He has for the last 2000 years.

But it has always taken saints who spoke up and suffered for the defense of the true Catholic faith.

That is what it has taken throughout history and that is what is needed today. Fr. Carota

COVID-19 Virus: At this time, with regard to the Coronavirus event, we are not making any changes in the availability of sacraments or the schedule of mass. However, in an abundance of caution, we are asking all parishioners to make decisions that are prudent for their situation. Elderly parishioners are particularly at risk and are excused from their Sunday obligations. Any parishioners that feel uncomfortable are excused as well.

As always, if you are exhibiting any signs of sickness or feel unwell, please be considerate of your fellow parishioners and do not attend mass or any chapel functions.

Thank you for your understanding in these trying times. Please stay well and may God bless you.

DRESS POLICY ~ When attending any functions at the chapel, especially Holy Mass, you are in the presence of the Blessed Sacrament. Please dress accordingly, with due modesty and respect. Everyone should refrain from jeans, shorts or T-shirts. Ladies, please use a head covering, available in the rear of the church either for loan or for purchase.

Remember, also, Lord, Your servants and handmaids below who are gone hence before us, marked with the sign of faith, and sleep the sleep of peace. To them, Lord and to all that rest in Christ, grant, we implore You a place of happiness, light and peace through the same Christ our Lord. Amen.
