Twenty Fourth Sunday After Pentecost – Sixth Sunday After Epiphany

GOSPEL Matt. 13:13-35

At that time Jesus spoke to the multitudes this parable: "The kingdom of heaven is like to a grain of mustard seed, which a man took and sowed in his field: which is the least indeed of all seeds but when it is grown up, it is greater than all herbs and becometh a tree, so that the birds of the air come and dwell in the branches thereof." Another parable He spoke to them: "The kingdom of heaven is like to leaven, which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal, until the whole was leavened." All these things Jesus spoke in parables to the multitudes: and without parables He did not speak to them: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying: "I will open my mouth in parables, I will utter things hidden from the foundation of the world."

St. Frances Xavier Cabrini

St. Frances Xavier Cabrini was born as Maria Francesca Cabrini on July 15, 1850 in Lombardy, Italy. She was born two months premature and the youngest of thirteen children. Frances would live most of her life in a fragile and delicate state of health. She dedicated her life to religious work from a young age and received a convent education at a school ran by the Daughters of the Sacred Heart. She graduated with high honors and a teaching certificate.

When Frances was 18, she applied for admission to the religious congregation of the Daughters of the Sacred Heart but was turned down because of her poor health. Instead, a priest asked her to teach at the House of Providence Orphanage. In 1877, she became Mother Cabrini after she finally made her vows and took the religious habit, also adding Xavier to her name in honor of St. Francis Xavier.

When the House of Providence Orphanage closed, her bishop asked her to found the Missionary Sisters of the Sacred Heart to care for the poor children in both schools and hospitals. In its first five years, the institute established seven homes and a free school and nursery. Frances wanted to continue her mission in China, but Pope Leo XIII urged her to go to the United States, a nation that was becoming flooded with Italian immigrants who needed her help.

On March 31, 1889, Frances arrived in New York City. Right from the beginning she encountered many disappointments and hardships. The house originally intended for her new orphanage was no longer available. Archbishop Michael Corrigan found them housing with the convent of the Sisters of Charity. Frances then received permission to found an orphanage in what is now West Park, New York and now known as Saint Cabrini Home.

Filled with a deep trust in God and endowed with a wonderful administrative ability, Frances founded 67 institutions, including orphanages, schools, and hospitals, within 35 years dedicated to caring for the poor, uneducated, sick, abandoned, and especially for the Italian immigrants. Her institutions were spread out in places all over the United States, including New York, Colorado, and Illinois.

In 1909, Frances became a naturalized citizen of the United States. Eight years later, on December 22, 1917, Frances passed at the age of 67, at the Columbus Hospital, one of her own hospitals, in Chicago, Illinois. Frances' body was originally placed at the Saint Cabrini Home but was exhumed in 1931 as part of her canonization process. St. Frances Xavier Cabrini was beatified on November 13, 1938, by Pope Pius XI and canonized by Pope Pius XII on July 7, 1946, making her the first United States citizen to be canonized. Her feast day is celebrated on November 13th.

Gospel Commentary. "The kingdom of heaven is like a grain of mustard seed the smallest of all the seeds, but when it grows up it becomes a tree, so that the birds of the air dwell in its branches" (Gospel). So the Church from humble beginnings in underground Catacombs has stretched out to the remotest ends of foreign lands, a living shelter for man as he flees upward from the earth; a miraculous leaven transforming fallen human culture into the Divine.

Yes, the Life of Christ is a leaven hiding, as it were, from the time of our Baptism in the three measures of faith, hope and charity until all of our humanity is leavened.

Like the first Christians, we, too, are to become a pattern to all, so that our neighbors in Macedonia and Achaia (Epistle), like birds of the air, will come and dwell in the branches of the Church.

It Is My Opinion The World Will Not End Tonight

It is my opinion, as I write this on the evening of November 8, that the world will not end tonight. If you are able to read this on the following Sunday, you will know that I was right. If I am wrong, nothing made of matter really matters anymore. That is the whole point to thinking about the end of the world, or "apocalypse." Every material consideration, concern, obsession and distraction will vanish when all creation is subsumed into the Creator, so that God will be "all in all" (1 Corinthians 15:28).

Our Lord warned that speculation about the end times is futile. He knew that there would be fanatics and demagogues stirring the crowds with claims that the end is just around the corner. We should not go "running after them" (Luke 17:23). False evangelists find that sort of thing good for business, but Dr. Billy Graham, a far more estimable representative of the Evangelical school, said it is hard not to think that we may be approaching the end of the world when you see all the terrible portents these days. Others indicate that it seems we are moving piece by piece toward World War III. Given technology, such a conflict could be hard to distinguish from the consummation of all that is, at least on this planet.

Secular thinkers may mock apocalyptic theology, but they have their own version of it in dire predictions about economic disaster (recall the Y2K hysteria of 2000) and global warming/cooling/change—or whatever may be its new nom du jour. There may be substance to some of that, but it is unscientific of scientists to treat a hypothesis as an absolute conclusion. Then ecology becomes its own theology, and anyone who disagrees is a heretic. Even if everything were to be melting or freezing, anticipation of the end of the world would not be a cause of reverence, but of anxiety.

Instead of saying "Come, Lord Jesus!" the atheist cannot help but moan, "Oh my God!!!"

Jesus says, "Be not anxious about tomorrow" (Matthew 6:34), because he is in control. Without him, we are out of control.

As William Butler Yeats wrote in The Second Coming:

*Things fall apart; the center cannot hold;
Mere anarchy is loosed upon the world,
The blood-dimmed tide is loosed, and everywhere
The ceremony of innocence is drowned;
The best lack all conviction, while the worst
are full of passionate intensity.*

When things seem to be spinning out of control, just look to Jesus on the Cross. There is the love that made the world and that will bring it back to him. Stat crux dum volvitur orbis. "The Cross is steady while the world is turning."

Fr. G. Rutler.

COVID-19 Virus: At this time, with regard to the Coronavirus event, we are not making any changes in the availability of sacraments or the schedule of mass. However, in an abundance of caution, we are asking all parishioners to make decisions that are prudent for their situation. Elderly parishioners are particularly at risk and are excused from their Sunday obligations. Any parishioners that feel uncomfortable are excused as well. As always, if you are exhibiting any signs of sickness or feel unwell, please be considerate of your fellow parishioners and do not attend mass or any chapel functions. Thank you for your understanding in these trying times. Please stay well and may God bless you.

Remember, also, Lord, Your servants and handmaids below who are gone hence before us, marked with the sign of faith, and sleep the sleep of peace. To them, Lord and to all that rest in Christ, grant, we implore You a place of happiness, light and peace through the same Christ our Lord. Amen.
