GAUDETE

GOSPEL John 1:19-28 At that time, when the Jews sent from Jerusalem priests and Levites to him, to ask him: "Who art thou?" And he confessed and did not deny: and he confessed: "I am not the Christ." And they asked him: "What then? Art thou Elias?" And he said: "I am not." "Art thou the prophet? And he answered: "No." They said therefore unto him: "Who art thou, that we may give an answer to them that sent us? What sayest thou of thyself?" He said: "I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness, make straight the way of the Lord, as said the prophet Isaias." And they that were sent were of the Pharisees. And they asked him and said to him: "Why then dost thou baptize, if thou be not Christ, nor Elias, nor the prophet?" John answered them, saying: "I baptize with water: but there hath stood one in the midst of you, whom you know not. The same is he that shall come after me, who is preferred before me: the latchet of whose shoe I am not worthy to loose." These things were done in Bethania, beyond the Jordan, where John was baptizing.

OUR LADY OF GUADALUPE ~ The Aztec Indian Cuauhtlatoatzin, was born in 1474. He was among the few to be baptized in the early days and given the names Juan Diego. Juan Diego was a widower at age 55 and turned his life to God. It was his custom to attend Mass at the Church in Tlatelolco. At daybreak, on Saturday, December 9, 1531, Juan Diego began his journey to Church. As he passed a hill named Tepeyac, he heard songbirds burst into harmony. The music stopped as suddenly as it had begun. A beautiful girl with tan complexion and bathed in the golden beams of the sun called him by name, "Juan Diego!"

The young woman said:

"Dear little son, I love you. I want you to know who I am.

I am the Virgin Mary, Mother of the one true God, of Him who gives life.

He is Lord and Creator of heaven and of earth.

I desire that there be built a church at this place where I want to manifest Him, make him known, give Him to all people through my love, my compassion, my help, and my protection.

I truly am your merciful Mother and the Mother of all who dwell in this land, and of all mankind, of all those who love me, of those who cry to me, and of those who seek and place their trust in me.

Here I shall listen to their weeping and their sorrows.

I shall take them all to my heart, and I shall cure their many sufferings, afflictions, and sorrows.

Run now to Tenochtitlan and tell the Lord Bishop all that you have seen and heard."

Juan Diego went to the palace of the Franciscan Bishop Juan de Zumárraga and was granted an audience. The Bishop was cordial but hesitant on the first visit and said that he would consider the request of the Lady. Dismayed, Juan returned to the hill and found Mary waiting for him. He asked her to send someone more suitable to deliver her message "for I am a nobody."

She said, "Listen, little son. There are many I could send. But you are the one I have chosen for this task. Tomorrow morning go back to the Bishop. Tell him it is the holy Virgin Mary, Mother of God who sends you, and repeat to him my great desire for a church in this place."

On Sunday morning, December 10th, Juan Diego called again on the Bishop for the second time. With much difficulty, he was finally granted an audience. The Bishop was surprised to see him and told him to ask for a sign from the Lady. Juan Diego reported this to the Virgin and she told him to return the following morning for the sign. However, when Juan Diego returned home he found his uncle gravely ill. Instead of going back to Tepeyac, he stayed home with his dying uncle. Juan Diego woke up early on December 12, 1531 to bring a priest, so his uncle might receive the last blessing. Juan had to pass Tepeyac hill to get to the priest. Instead of the usual route, he went another way to avoid the Lady. The Virgin appeared and said, "Least of my sons, what is the matter?" Juan was embarrassed by her presence and said "forgive me, my uncle is dying and desires me to find a priest for the Sacraments. Mary said, "Your uncle will not die at this time. This very moment his health is restored, so you can peacefully attend to my errand. Go up to the top of the hill; cut the flowers that are growing there and bring them to me."

Flowers in December? Impossible, thought Juan Diego. But he was obedient, and sure enough found beautiful Castilian roses on the hilltop. He ran back to Mary and she rearranged the roses and tied the lower corners of his tilma behind his neck so that nothing would spill, and said, "You see, little son, this is the sign I am sending to the Bishop. Tell him that now he has his sign, he should build the church I desire in this place. Do not let anyone but him see what you are carrying."

Juan called for the third time on the Bishop and explained all that had passed. Then Juan put up both hands and untied the corners of crude cloth behind his neck. The looped-up fold of the tilma fell; the flowers he thought were the precious sign tumbled out on the floor. The Bishop rose from his chair and fell on his knees in adoration before the tilma. For on the tilma was the image of the Blessed Virgin Mary just as described by Juan Diego.

It is no wonder that over the next seven years, from 1531 to 1538, eight million natives of Mexico converted to Catholicism.

Gaudete Sunday is the third Sunday of Advent in the liturgical calendar of the Roman Catholic Church. The day takes its common name from the Latin word Gaudete ("Rejoice"), the first word of the introit of this day's Mass.

Gaudete in Domino semper: iterum dico, gaudete. Modestia vestra nota sit omnibus hominibus: Dominus enim prope est. Nihil solliciti sitis: sed in omni oratione et obsecratione cum gratiarum actione petitiones vestrae innotescant apud Deum. Benedixisti Domine terram tuam: avertisti captivitatem Jacob.

This may be translated as: "Rejoice in the Lord always; again I say, rejoice. Let your forbearance be known to all, for the Lord is near at hand; have no anxiety about anything, but in all things, by prayer and supplication, with thanksgiving, let your requests be known to God. Lord, you have blessed your land; you have turned away the captivity of Jacob." Philippians 4:4–6; Psalm 85 (84):1

The spirit of the Liturgy all through Advent is one of expectation and preparation for the feast of Christmas as well as for the second coming of Christ, and the penitential exercises suitable to that spirit are thus on Gaudete Sunday suspended for a while in order to symbolize the joy and gladness in the promised Redemption.

While the theme of Advent is a focus on the coming of Jesus in three ways: His first, His present and His final Advent, the readings for Gaudete Sunday deal with rejoicing in the Lord — Christian joy — as well as the mission of St. John the Baptist and his connection with Advent.

Theologian Henri Nouwen described the difference between joy and happiness. While happiness is dependent on external conditions, joy is "the experience of knowing that you are unconditionally loved and that nothing -- sickness, failure, emotional distress, oppression, war, or even death -- can take that love away." Thus, joy can be present even in the midst of sadness.

Want to have a better marriage? You have to work at it! Have you ever heard this and said to yourself, "That's a tired cliché"? Well, although it is probably a tired cliché, there is some truth in it.

On Saturday, January 11, 2020 all couples are invited to a Marriage Workshop Night and Social

PLACE: Church Hall TIME: 4:00pm – 6:00pm

The purpose of this evening is to spend time playing fun games, learning about resources, and engaging in discussion about the common hurdles that married couples face, and some of the habits we can develop to have a stronger, happier marriage.

Snacks and materials provided. Please sign up on the bulletin board in the church hall.

DRESS POLICY

When attending any functions at the chapel, especially Holy Mass, you are in the presence of the Blessed Sacrament. Please dress accordingly, with due modesty and respect. Everyone should refrain from jeans, shorts or T-shirts. Ladies, please use a head covering, available in the rear of the church either for loan or for purchase.

Remember, also, Lord, Your servants and handmaids below who are gone hence before us, marked with the sign of faith, and sleep the sleep of peace. To them, Lord and to all that rest in Christ, grant, we implore You a place of happiness, light and peace through the same Christ our Lord. Amen.
