Pentecost Sunday

GOSPEL John 14:23-31 At that time, Jesus said to His disciples: "If anyone love Me, he will keep My word, and My Father will love him and We will come to him and will make Our abode with him. He who does not love Me, does not keep My words. And the word that you have heard is not Mine, but the Father's Who sent Me. "These things I have spoken to you while yet dwelling with you. But the Paraclete, the Holy Ghost, Whom the Father will send in My Name, He will teach you all things and bring all things to your mind, whatsoever I shall have said to you. Peace I leave with you, My peace I give unto you; not as the world gives, do I give unto you. Let not your heart be troubled: nor let it be afraid. You have heard that I said to you: 'I go away, and I am coming to you.' If you loved Me you would indeed be glad, because I go to the Father: for the Father is greater than I. And now I have told you before it comes to pass, that when it shall come to pass, you may believe. I will no longer speak much with you, for the Prince of the world is coming and in Me He has nothing. But he comes that the world may know that I love the Father and that I do as the Father has commanded Me."

The infant Church was gathered together in the supper room at Jerusalem. At the third hour the Holy Ghost descended upon the apostles in the form of tongues of fire, thus completing the first step in their sanctification, thus bringing them to spiritual maturity. The Holy Ghost excludes no one. Men of all nations and of all peoples unite to confess: "The Spirit of the Lord hath filled the whole world, alleluia; and that which containeth all things hath knowledge of the voice, alleluia" (Introit). He lives in the hearts of those who will receive Him. He is the source and the bond of unity, of mutual understanding and reciprocal love. Sin and its author, the evil spirit, breed disharmony, strife and contention. Therefore we pray in the Introit, "Let God arise and let His enemies be scattered. This plea for action on the part of God is continued in the Kyrie and in the Collect of the Mass. The Epistle gives us the historical account of the events that occurred on Pentecost. But the work begun on Pentecost is not yet complete and must be renewed and repeated in us. Therefore we kneel after the Epistle and sing: "Come, Holy Ghost, fill the hearts of Thy faithful, and enkindle in them the fire of Thy love" Then we rise to our feet and sing:

"Come, Thou Holy Spirit, come, And from Thy celestial home, Send Thy light and brilliancy. Come, Thou Father of the poor. Come, Thou source of gifts secure, Come, our heart's true radiancy".

The Holy Ghost comes to us to dwell in our hearts with the Father and the Son, truly and personally. He is our teacher; He brings peace. At the Offertory we sing psalm 67, which sings of the victory of Christ and His Church. We join in this victorious procession, decked out in the royal livery of Christ (through baptism and confirmation). Having conquered evil within ourselves and in our surroundings, we proceed like glorious victors to the "temple which is in Jerusalem," that is, to the altar. We pray that God may confirm and perfect in us what we received at Easter through baptism, and that it may be renewed and strengthened by the Holy Ghost. In the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass the wonderful things related in the Epistle are re-enacted in us. As we offer our sacrifice, we turn from self-love and offer our own souls to God. Thus we make room for the entry of the Holy Ghost. We receive Holy Communion and thus receive a new and more perfect incorporation in Christ. We will become more perfectly united to the body of Christ than ever before if we live by the Spirit of Christ, the Holy Ghost. This thought is presented to us in the Communion chant, for if we devoutly receive Holy Communion, we shall be "filled with the Holy Ghost" Baur

ANNOUNCEMENTS

- Please consider including The Chapel of the Holy Family in your estate plans. The Chapel is grateful for your continuing support, which helps to preserve and sustain the traditional liturgy and faith of the Roman Catholic Church in the Melbourne area.
- The board thanks you for your patience and understanding during the church renovations. During the months of June and July the pews will be reupholstered and the carpet in both the sanctuary and the church proper replaced. During this process half of the pews will be removed. Once this section is carpeted, those pews will be put back in the church and the other half removed while that section of carpet is replaced.
- If you are new to the Tridentine Mass, you may find the grey or green paperback missals, found in the pews, helpful in following the liturgy.
- Parishioners, friends and visitors are welcome to refreshments in the church hall following the 9:00 AM Mass.

FATHER SAFREED'S REFLECTIONS

JOHN XXIII VATICAN II AND THE "NEW PENTECOST"

On this feast of Pentecost, in addition to it being the Feast of the Holy Ghost, it is also the solemn beginning of the Church and ranks second in importance behind Easter, with Christmas coming in third as far as liturgical observance is concerned.

To justify the calling of Vatican II, Angelo Roncalli, otherwise known as John XXXIII, described this event as a "New Pentecost." Take away the pious sounding words, what in fact he really declared was the creation of a new church. Anyone with "eyes to see with" will clearly understand this to be true.

When Vatican II is unmasked and exposed to light, it is not a fairy tale most people would like to believe. The story of Vatican II is not a happy one. It is one of pillage, destruction, and abandonment. It is the story of pirates attacking the Barque of Peter. Yet, instead of taking over the ship as many contend, Modernists built their own ship and charted a new course. [p.321]

Most Roman Curia prelates remained staunchly traditional throughout Vatican II.

Modernist cardinals and bishops, who controlled the assembly, therefore, used every opportunity to humiliate them and weaken their power. John XXIII [and Paul VI] simply ignored the Curia or relieved them of power by papal mandates. To neutralize opposition, John XXIII established "joint commissions" where conservatives were always in the minority and never had enough votes to override Modernist agenda. Although the Curia saw the Church being seriously attacked, they were [often] powerless to defend Her. [p.323]

John XXIII...led bishops to believe that the world had miraculously changed and that threats to the Catholic Church from Modernism, Freemasonry, Communism, and unbelief no longer existed. Instead, they stressed that Catholics needed to dialogue with these former enemies of the Church and become friends with them. [p.324]

There is much that could be said about Angelo Roncalli, but if you study his life, and what he really did as head of the Novus Ordo institution you would have to conclude that he was one of the most evil and dangerous men in all of history, in spite of his cultivated beneficent persona.

As strongly organized anti-Catholic and anti-religious forces worked against the Church, inside and out, to corrupt, weaken and destroy her, John XXIII sided with the Modernists, anticlerical liberals and revolutionary socialists...
...John XXIII was a wolf in sheep's clothing, deceiving countless souls by means of false obedience....He was a master deceiver with the cunning of an old fox. [p.182]

DRESS POLICY

When attending any functions at the chapel, especially Holy Mass, you are in the presence of the Blessed Sacrament. Please dress accordingly, with due modesty and respect. Everyone should refrain from jeans, shorts or T-shirts. Ladies, please use a head covering, available in the rear of the church either for loan or for purchase.

Remember, also, Lord, Your servants and handmaids below who are gone hence before us, marked with the sign of faith, and sleep the sleep of peace. To them, Lord and to all that rest in Christ, grant, we implore You a place of happiness, light and peace through the same Christ our Lord. Amen.
